Introduction

This book has been written primarily for Al-Azhar University undergraduate and graduate students of English as a foreign or second language. It is also addressed to tutors and others interested in this ESP language course and in English for Islamic purposes language teaching in higher education. It assumes an intermediate standard of knowledge and practical handling of the language and, from this point of departure, seeks to fulfil the following aims:

1. to further students' knowledge of English Islamic topics through exploration and analysis;
2. to see a grammar as providing a means of understanding the relation of form to meaning, and meaning to function, in context;
3. to provide a basic Islamic terminology which, within this framework, will enable students to make the relationships to the original Arabic terms clear.

the course is accompanied by a varying number of practice exercises and activities. Some involve the observation and identification of the taught content and knowledge or of the relations between them; others call for the manipulation or completion of sentences in various meaningful ways; grammatical topics are sometimes proposed for discussion between pairs or groups of students; topics are proposed for the writing of short articles, narratives, descriptions and dialogues for communication purposes.

The first pillar of Islam: the Shahada

The Arabic word Islam means submission, obedience, commitment and peace. Submission means we should God's commandments. cheerfully accept and act upon Obedience means abiding by God's Law. Commitment means we bind ourselves to God; we put ourselves in His charge, if we submit to God's Will, obey His laws, and commit ourselves to His charge, we will have peace truth and righteousness. It is not a Islam is the religion of new religion. Islam was ordained by God. It has always been and will be un til the end of time. A person who holds the beliefs and follows the practices of Islam is called a Muslim. They worship God alone and believe that "There is no God except Allah" Allah has no partner. He is the Only One, so a Muslim always turns to God and to no one else for help and guidance

Messengers were sent by God to specific peoples mostly with an oral message, but prophets were connected with a written scripture. Muhammad has the advantage of being at once a messenger and a prophet. God revealed the Qur'an. to Muhammad. It was revealed in Arabic sentence by sentence at different times over a period of twenty three years. The Qur'an is the only scripture in human history preserved in its complete and original form without any change in style, wording or punctuation. Whereas the Qur'an are (Hadith) is the word of God, the Traditions of Muhammad practical interpretations of the Qur'an. Hadith includes the recorded sayings and deeds of the prophet. It also includes .deeds of the prophets companions which had his approval

Muslims believe that as God is Merciful, Beneficent and Wise, everything he ordains is for the good of man. Although we may be unable to perceive God's design we accept His Will. We must realize the limits of the human mind in comparison with God's limitless knowledge. Surrender to .God's Will is therefore an essential article of the Muslim faith meaningful, and that the Muslims believe that life is purpose of life is to worship and serve God. To worship God means more than prayer. It means to love Him, to obey His commandments and to do what is right. God expects each of us to carry His Islamic commitments. Muslims believe that individuals must work for their good in this world and the next. Each Muslim must combine faith with action, belief with practice. Faith must come through rational thinking and acceptance of God's ordainments. The teachings of the Qur'an are based on revelation and reason. Islam will propagate not by force but by conviction. Muslims are commanded by God to observe five basic creeds..We call these creeds the five pillars of Islam. The first pillar is the profession of faith "There is no God except Allah and Muhammad is a messenger of Allah". When this profession of faith is made with sincerity, an individual is on the way to the Islamic way of life. When this profession is put in force, then .an individual has become a Muslim

Our syllabus this year consists of two major topics:

1. Introduction to Islam.
2. Pillars of Islam

1- Introduction:

Why are we studying English for Islam? What is our aim?

Islam, being the only universal religion taught in its fundamentals by all the prophets and the religion which the first human being was instructed to follow, was spread around the world through good actions and wise words. Such universality makes it incumbent upon those who believe in it to address the Other and provide him/her with a clear image of Islam. In order to reach that goal, every Muslim should use every tool and learn every possible language to spread the word. That's why we are learning English for Islam. Thus, our aim is to be able to introduce and present Islam in a proper way.

What is Islam?

The word Islam is an Arabic word that originates from the root (س ل م) The most famous meanings of that root are as follows:

- 1. Submission: to submit to the will of Allah
- 2. Obedience: to obey the orders of Allah
- 3. Commitment/ Dedication: to dedicate all our deeds and sayings to Allah.

4. Peace: to reach peace within ourselves and with others.

Is Islam a new religion?

Islam is NOT a new religion. Misconception

Islam has always been the same religion with the same fundamentals from Adam to Muhammad (PBUH). It is the last ring in the chain of revelation as prophet Muhammad (PBUH) is the seal of prophets.

Muslims believe that life is meaningful and has a purpose.

What is the purpose of life?

1. To know Allah through His divine attributes.
2. To obey His orders and abstain from His prohibitions.
3. To become a life example and true reflection of His divine attributes.

OR

What does "to worship Allah" really mean?

1. To do what is right and what He loves.
2. To abstain from what is wrong.
3. To become life examples of His divine attributes.

What is the difference between a prophet and a messenger?

The word prophet refers mainly to written scriptures

Such as: Quran, the Gospel and the Scrolls

The word messenger refers mainly to oral messages

Thus, prophet Muhammad (PBUH) was both a prophet and a messenger with a written scripture which is the Quran and an oral message which is the Sunnah.

Quran refers to the Word of Allah (SWT)

Sunnah refers to:

- 1) The sayings of prophet Muhammad (PBUH)
- 2) The deeds of prophet Muhammad (PBUH)
- 3) The sayings and deeds of the companions of the prophet approved by him.

How was the Quran revealed?

The Quran was revealed to prophet Muhammad (PBUH) in Arabic in portions in different places at different times over a period of 23 years.

What is the relation between Quran and Sunnah?

Sunnah is the practical interpretation of the Quran.

The main points discussed in the lecture:

1. Our aim.
2. What is Islam?
3. What is the purpose of life?
4. What is the difference between prophet and messenger?
5. What is the Sunnah?
6. How was the Quran revealed?
7. What is the relation between Quran and Sunnah?

Most Important Questions:

1. How was the Quran revealed?
2. What does the Sunnah include?
3. What does to worship Allah really mean?

Recommendation: Listen to the lectures of Timothy Winter عبد الحكيم مراد on the pillars of Islam on Youtube.

Congregational and Eid Prayers

It is recommended that when two or more Muslims are present at the time of a prayer they form a congregation and pray together. A leader (imam) is selected from among the men in the group, preferably a person of religious knowledge and the group form straight parallel rows behind him, standing shoulder to shoulder but not touching each other, all facing the Qibla(the direction of Kaaba). Women form separate parallel rows behind the men.

On Fridays, Muslim men and boys go to the mosque to pray the Friday (Jum'a) congregational prayer. It is obligatory for them but not for women, (Jum'a)'prayer consists of two rakats, substituting for the four *rakat*sof Duhur, preceded by a sermon (Khutba), and is observed at Duhur time on Friday, always in congregation.

Eid Prayer

There are two Eids. The first is called Eid-ul Fitr (the Festival of Fast-Breaking) and it falls on the first day of Shawwal, following the month of Ramadan. The second Eid is Eid-ul-Adha(The Festival of Sacrifice) and it falls on the tenth day of Dhul-Hijjah, the last month of the Islamic calendar. The Eid prayer is any time after sunrise and before noon on either of the two Eids. No call to prayer (adhan) or summons (iqamah) is required. This prayer consists of two rakats with six to sixteen additional takbirs(Allahu Akbar) offered in congregation and followed, by a sermon (khutba).

The Third Pillar of Islam: Fasting

The fast of Ramadan, the ninth month of the Muslim year is observed by adult Muslims, men and women except the aged and the sick. Those on a journey may postpone the fast. For the whole of the month of Ramadan, believers must abstain from sunrise till dusk from food, drink and sexual relations. During the night special prayers are performed (Taraweeh). When the new moon appears and the month of fasting is ended, Muslims celebrate. The festival which lasts three days is called Eid al Fitror the Lesser Festival.

Fasting is an act of pure submission to God's command given in the Qur'an, to observe the fast. Fasting has many benefits but its true significance is to develop a sense of complete obedience to the One Who created us and gave us our physical and spiritual needs and the means to fulfill these needs. We acknowledge that God is our Sustainer, and through His bounty - through the use of natural resources and our faculties - we obtain our sustenance. Hence, If God commands us to abstain from food, drink and the fulfillment of other natural appetites for a period of time, we gladly obey His command. God says in Qur'an:

"Oh you who believe! Fasting is prescribed to you as it was prescribed for those before you, that you may (learn) Self-restraint." (2:183).

While many benefits come to us through fasting the primary benefit is that we learn self restraint, discipline of our appetites, and flexibility of our habits. Over indulgence in eating, drinking, smoking or marital relations makes one the slave of one's desires and habits. Through fasting, one becomes free of this slavery. Through fasting those who are well-off learn to appreciate the afflictions of the poor - hunger and thirst - and become more sympathetic toward them. When a person fasts, he feels that he is joining the whole Muslim world in a spiritual act, thus increasing his sense of community and brotherhood. Fasting also helps to improve people's health, such as the elimination of fatty substances from the blood, decrease in the harmful activity of intestinal microbes and of uric acid, and so on. But it should be emphasized that all these benefits are not the object of fasting. As was stated earlier, we fast solely because God commands us to do so, as devout and obedient servants to His will.

 Translate the following text into Arabic:

There are five pillars of Islam: Belief in one God, Prayer, Alms, Fasting, and Pilgrimage. These form the foundation of faith for every Muslim.

1. The basic declaration of belief or Shahada is, "There is no God but Allah, and Muhammad is his messenger." Declaring this is all that is required of a person who wishes to embrace Islam.
2. Prayer, or Salah is the performing of the five daily prayers, at dawn, noon, mid-afternoon, sundown, and nightfall.
3. Alms, or Zakah, is obligatory on every Muslim as a tax to benefit the poor and needy. Every adult Muslim must contribute a 2.5% of his or her wealth (not income) each year.
4. Fasting, or Sawm which takes place in the month of Ramadan, involves self discipline and humility through abstention from food, drink and marital relations from dawn to sunset. It encourages a sense of empathy with those who go hungry around the world and to give charity. It is a time to focus on spiritual nourishment and refinement of character. It ends with the celebration of Eid-ul Fitr.
5. Pilgrimage, or Hajj, is to be performed once in a Muslim's lifetime to the first House of God, the Kabah in Mecca, Saudi Arabia. Pilgrims dress simply in white garments to symbolise the equality of humankind. At least two million Muslims go to perform Hajj in the final month of the Islamic calendar each year. The end of Hajj is marked by the second of two major Muslim festivals, Eid-ul Adha.

Forbearance	الصبر

Pre-reading question/s:

- 1) What does the Qur'an say about Zakat?
- 2) Is there a translation that conveys the real meaning of Zakat?

Almsgiving – Zakat

Zakat is the fourth pillar of Islam. It is an obligation (fard) prescribed by God for those Muslim men and women who possess enough means, to distribute a certain percentage of their annual savings or capital in goods or money among the poor and needy. Zakat is assessed at the end of the year on both capital and savings from income. The details of percentages and the method of distribution and collection are based on the practices of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) and his Companions.

The literal meaning of the word Zakat is 'purity'. The Prophet (PBUH) has said: "God has made Zakat obligatory simply to purify your remaining property". There is no equivalent practice in other religions. Hence, while terms such as 'charity', 'poor-tax' "alms-tax" and 'poor-due', 'almsgiving', have been coined by various translators, none of these terms actually conveys the true sense of the word Zakat. Zakat is not a tax levied by a government, nor is it a voluntary contribution. It is first and foremost a duty enjoined by God and hence an essential article of faith. In the Qur'an the payment of Zakat is frequently mentioned in the same sentence or verse as the establishment of salat(prayers):

“Lo! Those who believe and do good deeds and establish salat and pay Zakat, their reward is with their Sustainer and no fear shall come upon them, nor shall they grieve” (2: 277).

Thus, while salat is an act of worship through words and bodily action, Zakat is a devotional act through one's wealth. Without the spirit of submission to God and love of Him, both acts are without spiritual and moral significance.

In the Qur'an, wealth is referred to as God's bounty (fadl). God, as the Creator and Sustainer of the universe, is also the Owner of all things, including all the things which man possesses and uses.

"Who has created the heavens and the earth and sends down rain for you from the sky? With it We caused to grow in them orchards full of loveliness: it is not in your power to make trees Grow in them".

Since God is the true Owner of all things and we are merely His trustees, wealth is to be produced, distributed, acquired and spent in a way which is pleasing to Him. The acquisition of wealth is not an end in itself, nor is wealth to be squandered for meaningless or wasteful purposes, and above all it is not to be used in order to gain power over other people through exploitation or control of the means of livelihood. Qur'an and Hadith make it very clear that any form of gain which results in some injustice or harm to others is an act of disobedience to God. On the other hand, Qur'an tells us that next to purity of faith, the most pleasing in the sight of God is kindness and charity, forbearance and forgiveness, and doing good to others.

"Those who spend in charity, whether in prosperity or adversity, who restrain anger and pardon people; for God loves those who do good to others".

Zakat is compulsory on cash, cattle and crops. The regulations differ for each of these categoriesFor cash, the minimum rate is two and one-half percent (2.5 %).

Those who are eligible to receive Zakat are mentioned in the Qur'an.

"The alms are only for the poor, the needy, those who collect them, those whose hearts are to be reconciled, to free the captives and the debtors, for the cause of God, and for the travelers; a duty imposed by God. God is All-Knowing, All-wise" (9:60).

- 2) For whom is the Hajj an obligation?

Pilgrimage - Hajj

Hajj, the fifth pillar of Islam, is obligatory at least once in a lifetime for any Muslim man or woman who fulfills the following conditions: at the time he (or she) intends to perform Hajj, he, should be sane, sound of health, free from debts, and should have enough resources to pay his own travel expenses.

Very briefly, the obligatory (fard) observances of Hajj are:

1. IHRAM, (the physical and spiritual state of consecration to God) before approaching Mecca, the pilgrim takes a full bath (ghusl) before putting on the garments of ihram. In ihram attire, he expresses his intention (niyat) to perform hajj. The putting - on of ihram is followed by a two rak'a (unit) prayer.

The ihram dress, which all male pilgrims wear, consists of two sheets of ordinary unsown white cloth which symbolizes the renunciation of worldly and material goals and vanities. The pilgrim who is in a state of consecration (muhrim) must abstain from certain satisfactions and pleasures.

2. TAWAF (Cirumambulation of the Ka'ba)

On entering the Sacred Mosque the muhrim goes towards the Black Stone which he kisses or touches. Starting from the Black Stone and keeping the building on his left, he makes the seven circuits. Certain prayers are repeated, and at the end of every circuit the Black stone is kissed or touched.

3. SAA'E (hastening)

The next rite is that of running between the two elevations called Safa and Marwa.

God has prescribed the remembrance of Hajar's attempts to find water as an important part of the observances of Hajj. Each pilgrim ascends as-Safa. At the top he makes devotional calls (talbiya), descends from the hill, walks the distance to al-Marwa and climbs it, making similar talbiya, repeating sa'ai seven times.

4 ARAFAT and MUZDALIFA:

After sunrise on the 9th of Dhul-Hijja, the pilgrim sets out for Mount Arafat reciting talbiya. Here Duhur and Asr prayers are performed in congregation. Just after sunset, all the pilgrims leave for Muzdalifa where everyone performs Maghrib and Isha prayers and passes the night.

5. MINA :

On the morning of the 10th of Dhul-Hijja, the pilgrims return to Mina, where there are three stone pillars representing three positions where the devil (Satan) tried to tempt Prophet Ismail (peace be upon him) to rebellion when his father was leading him to the place of sacrifice. Ismail drove away the devil by throwing stones at him. The pilgrims throw stones at the same pillars to signify the rejection of evil promptings.

6. EI D-UL-ADHA (The Feast of Sacrifice):

After stoning the first of the three pillars, the pilgrims sacrifice a sheep, goat or camel, following the practice (sunnah) of the Prophet Ibrahim who sacrificed a ram when God spared him the sacrifice of his son Ismail (peace be on them). While Eid-ul adha is actually a part of the observances of hajj, it is also celebrated throughout the Muslim world, and every Muslim who can afford it sacrifices an animal on this occasion.

Pre-reading questions:

- 1) What is the role of Al-Azahr in the Muslim world?
- 2) Is the US administration decree declaring Jerusalem as the capital of the Zionist entity reasonable? Why (not)?

Al-Azhar reaction to the US administration decree regarding Jerusalem as the capital of the Zionist entity

Al-Azhar has been undertaking a religious and cultural responsibility towards Muslim issues, beside the trust it took on for more than a thousand and seventy years. Such trust is now heavily stressed in the light of the late crisis experienced by Jerusalem due to the recent decree issued by the American administration declaring Jerusalem as the capital of the Zionist entity and moving the American embassy to Jerusalem. This is a reckless and irresponsible manner that lacks the least consideration of the Muslim Nation's fate. The declaration has blatantly challenged the feelings of the Arabs and the Muslims in particular, as well as the feelings of the free world and the lovers and advocates of peace worldwide. The consequence of this decree is that it widely opens the gates of evil, extremism and hatred.

In the light of the above, Al-Azhar called for the convening of an international conference to support Jerusalem and the question of Palestine under the title "Al-Azhar International Conference to Support Jerusalem," held on Wednesday, Rabi' ul-'Akhar 29th, 1439 (January 17th, 2018) and Thursday, Jumada l-Uwla 1st, 1439 (January 18th, 2018) at Al-Azhar Conference Center, located in Nasr city. The purpose of the conference was to discuss the mechanisms of a procedure that can regain the Palestinian dignity, protect their land, preserve the identity of religious sanctities and fend off the Zionist arrogance that challenges the international resolutions and provokes the feelings of both the Muslims and Christians around the world.

Pre-reading questions:

- 1) What is the relation between Jerusalem and Palestine?
- 2) What does Jerusalem symbolize?

Jerusalem is historically inseparable from Palestine

The history of Jerusalem is inseparable from the deeply-rooted history of Palestine, long-standing for about six thousand years. The previous name of Palestine was “the Land of Canaan,” which is attributed to the Arab Canaanites who founded it before the advent of Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Jerusalem holds a spiritual, moral and religious significance for all the believers of the heavenly religions. It represents a symbol of sacredness, since it is the home of prophets, the host of heavenly revelations and the holy land around which Allah has sent blessings. Its status is particularly significant for the Arabs and the Muslims. Even though there is Judaization, identity-suppression, settlement and demographic alteration, Jerusalem will forever remain an Arab city.

Jerusalem has a deeply-rooted Arab character

Jerusalem is one of the oldest cities in the world. The majority of historical sources assert that Jebusites, an Arab Canaanite tribe, are its founders and the first to inhabit it and build its civilization. They settled in this region for three thousand years before the birth of Jesus, the Messiah, peace be upon him. In other words, they founded Jerusalem more than twenty five centuries before the emergence of the Jews and Judaism, the establishment of the Hebrew language, and the writing down of the Bible.

Pre-reading questions:

- 1) What is Jerusalem known for?
- 2) Who founded and first lived in Jerusalem?

Jerusalem was first inhabited by the Arab Jebusites

The city was known for its Canaanite name Urshalim (i.e. the city of peace). According to the Bible, the Arab Jebusites inhabited the Land of Canaan until the time of David, the Prophet of Allah, and his son Solomon, peace be upon them. They hadn't moved out when the Jews entered it during the first millennium B.C. The Bible clearly distinguishes between Urshalim (Jerusalem) and the city of David (Zion). "The king and his men marched to Jerusalem to attack the Jebusites who lived there. David captured the fortress of Zion—which is the City of David. David then took up residence in the fortress and called it the City of David." (Cf. Old Testament, Samuel 2, Chapter 5, Verses 4-10.)

Statements of the Old Testament clearly show that the period David and Solomon were the reigning kings was no more than 73 years. David remained a king for 33 years while Solomon reigned for 40 years. This means that it was the only period during which the Jews had presence in the city.

The Arab Jebusites remained Jerusalem residents for 25 centuries

In 587 B.C., after the Babylonian capture, its Arab residents and their ancestors remained residents there. They were in power for 25 centuries, since that time until now, including 14 centuries under the rule of Islam. As opposed to the common misconception held by many historians who trace back the historicity of the Arab character of Jerusalem to the beginning of the Arab-Muslim conquest in 17 A.H. (638 A.C.), the Arab character of Jerusalem and the Palestinian lands is an indisputable fact even before the advent of Islam.

Post-reading MCQ's:

1) What is the origin of the word 'Jerusalem' or 'Urshalim'?

A Canaanite name	A Christian name	A Jewish name	A Syrian name
------------------	------------------	---------------	---------------

2) Who first settled in Jerusalem?

David	Solomon	the Arab Jebusites	the Jews
-------	---------	--------------------	----------

3) What is the City of David?

Jerusalem	the fortress of Zion	Hebron	Palestine
-----------	----------------------	--------	-----------

4) How long did the Jews have presence in Jerusalem?

33 years	40 years	73 years	twenty-five centuries
----------	----------	----------	-----------------------

5) How long was Jerusalem under the rule of Islam?

14 centuries	25 centuries	73 years	1,300 years
--------------	--------------	----------	-------------

Post-reading Questions:

- 1) Who first inhabited the Land of Canaan?
- 2) How long did Prophet David remain a king in Palestine?
- 3) How long did Prophet Solomon remain a king in Palestine?
- 4) Can the Arab character of Jerusalem be traced back to the beginning of the Arab-Muslim conquest in 17 A.H. (638 A.C.)?

Translate the following into Arabic:

- 1) The city was known for its Canaanite name Urshalim (i.e. the city of peace). I- Read the following passage, and then answer the questions:

In the seventh century in Arabia, when society was gripped by idolatry, the divide between rich and poor was growing, and the Arab tribal system was thriving. Muhammad (saw) received a revelation that would transform society both within the Arabian Peninsula and significantly in other parts of the world. Christianity and Judaism also originated in the Middle East, and the Prophet Muhammad (saw) made clear that far from bringing a new message, he was in fact calling people back to the one true God and to the way of life people had left. The revelations he received corrected distortions that had crept into earlier revelation and called all to return to the 'Straight Path' of Islam.

Allah is the name for God in Arabic. Allah is also known by his attributes, like The Compassionate, the Merciful, the Loving. Although we use the English pronoun 'He' to refer to God, in Islam and in the Arabic language, Allah is a neutral term.
